FOREWORD

Dear tutor,

Rwanda Education Board is honoured to present English language TTC Year One tutor's guide which serves as a guide to competence-based teaching and learning to ensure consistency and coherence in the learning of the English language subject. The Rwandan educational philosophy is to ensure that learners achieve full potential at every level of education which will prepare them to be well integrated in society and exploit employment opportunities.

In line with efforts to improve the quality of education, the government of Rwanda emphasizes the importance of aligning teaching and learning materials with the syllabus to facilitate their learning process. Many factors influence what they learn, how well they learn and the competences they acquire. Those factors include the relevance of the specific content, the quality of tutors' pedagogical approaches, the assessment strategies and the instructional materials available. We paid special attention to the activities that facilitate the learning process in which learners can develop ideas and make new discoveries during concrete activities carried out individually or with peers. With the help of the tutors, learners will gain appropriate language skills and be able to apply what they have learnt in real life situations, especially teaching practices. Hence, they will be able to develop certain values and attitudes allowing them to make a difference not only to their own life but also to the nation.

This is in contrast to traditional learning theories which view learning mainly as a process of acquiring knowledge from the more knowledgeable who is mostly the tutor. In competence-based curriculum, learning is considered as a process of active building and developing of knowledge and understanding, skills, values, and attitude by the learner where concepts are mainly introduced by an activity, situation or scenario that helps the learner to construct knowledge, develop skills and acquire positive attitudes and values.

In addition, such active learning engages learners in doing things and thinking about the things they are doing, they are encouraged to bring their own real experiences and knowledge into the learning processes. In view of this, your role is to:

- Plan your lessons and prepare appropriate teaching materials.
- Organize group discussions for learners considering the importance of social constructivism suggesting that learning occurs more effectively when the learner works collaboratively with more knowledgeable and experienced people.
- Engage learners through active learning methods such as inquiry methods, group discussions, research, investigative activities, group and individual work activities.

Provides supervised opportunities for learners to develop different competences by giving tasks which enhance critical thinking, problem solving, research, creativity and innovation, communication and cooperation.

- Support and facilitate the learning process by valuing learners' contributions in the class activities.
- Guide learners towards the harmonization of their findings.
- Encourage individual, peer and group evaluation of the work done in the classroom and use appropriate competence-based assessment approaches and methods.

To facilitate you in your teaching activities, the content of this teacher's guide is self-explanatory so that you can easily use it. It is divided into 3 main parts:

The part 1: starts with general introduction, explains the structure of this book, and gives you the methodological guidance;

The part 2: Provides the sample lesson plans as reference for your lesson planning process;

The part 3: Provides details on teaching guidance for each concept given in the student book.

Even though this teacher's guide contains the answers for all activities given in the learner's book, you are requested to work through each question and activity before judging learner's findings.

I wish to sincerely appreciate all the people who contributed towards the development of this teacher's guide, particularly REB staff who organized the whole process from its inception. Special appreciation goes to the tutors who supported the exercise throughout. Any comment or contribution would be welcome to the improvement of this text book for the next versions.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

I wish to express my appreciation to all the people who played a major role in the development of this English language textbook for TTC year 1, ECLPE. It would not have been successful without active participation of different education stakeholders.

I owe gratitude to different Universities and schools in Rwanda that allowed their staff to work with REB in the in-house textbooks production project. I wish to extend my sincere gratitude to lecturers, tutors and all other individuals whose efforts in one way or the other contributed to the success in the writing of this textbook.

Special acknowledgement goes to the teacher training colleges which offered content providers and University of Rwanda which availed quality assurers, those who conducted validation as well as experts in design and layout services, illustrations and image anti-plagiarism.

Finally, my word of gratitude goes to the Rwanda Education Board staff particularly those from the department of curriculum, Teaching and Learning Resources Department (CTLR) who were involved in the whole process of TTC textbook writing.

1. General Introduction

English Language TTC Year one Tutor's Guide has been developed with the aim of helping the tutors of English language to deliver lessons while following the new Competence Based Curriculum principles and goals. These principles and goals were set to meet the national goals of Education in Rwanda. It encompasses four main parts that are : the general introduction, sample lesson plan, the development of units and references.

The general introduction provides methodological guidance to the tutor. It includes notes on generic competences, cross cutting issues, the special education needs; students' learning styles and strategies to conduct teaching and learning process, teaching approaches, methods and techniques. Also, in the general introduction, the teacher is equipped with all information on how to develop generic competences, integrate cross cutting issues in English language and how to help learners with special needs.

2. Sample Lesson Plan

The second part is made of a sample lesson plan which will be developed in line with different approaches or techniques and teaching resources that can be used in teaching and learning English language.

3. Unit Development

In this part, the details about unit development are provided. Each unit has the following structure: unit title, key unit competence, prerequisites, cross cutting issues to be addressed, guidance on introductory activity, list of lessons, guidance on different lessons, the unit summary, additional information, Unit Assessment and additional activities.

This part also provides the lesson structure made of the following components: lesson titles, prerequisites/revision or introduction of the lesson, teaching resources, learning activities and lesson assessment. The lesson assessment comprises questions and suggested answers to assess the lesson learning objectives.

4. Attention to special educational needs and inclusive education

In the classroom, learners learn in different ways depending on their learning pace, needs or any other special problem they might have. However, the teacher has the responsibility to adapt his/her methodologies and approaches to meet the learning needs of each student in the classroom. Also, tutors should understand that learners with special needs ought to be taught differently or require some accommodation to enhance the learning environment. This will be done based on the subject and the nature of the lesson. In order to create a well-rounded learning atmosphere, tutors need to:

Remember that learners learn in different ways. Tutors therefore have to offer a variety of learning activities (e.g. role-play, music and singing, word games and quizzes, and outdoor activities)

Maintain an organized classroom and limit distraction. This will help learners with special needs to stay on track during the lesson and follow instructions easily.

Vary the pace of teaching to meet the needs of each learner. Some learners are slower than others.

Break down learning activities into smaller, manageable tasks. Learners with special needs often have difficulty understanding long-winded or several instructions at once. It is better to use simple, concrete sentences in order to facilitate them understand what you are asking.

Use clear consistent language to explain the meaning (and demonstrate or show pictures) if you introduce new words or concepts.

Make full use of facial expressions, gestures and body language.

Pair a learner who has a disability with a friend. Let them do things together and learn from each other. Make sure the friend is not over protective and does not do everything. Both learners will benefit from this strategy

Use multi-sensory strategies. As all learners learn in different ways, it is important to make every lesson as multi-sensory as possible. Learners with learning disabilities might have difficulty in one area, while they might excel in another. For example, use both visual and auditory cues.

Below are general strategies related to each main category of disabilities and how to deal with every situation that may arise in the classroom. However, the list is not exhaustive because each learner is unique with different needs and that should be handled differently.

Strategy to help a learner with developmental impairment:

Use simple words and sentences when giving instructions.

Use real objects that the learner can feel and handle, rather than just working abstractly with pen and paper.

Break a task down into small steps or learning objectives. The learner should start with an activity that s/he can do already before moving on to something that is more difficult.

Gradually give the learner less help. Let the learner work in the same group with those without disability.

LEARNING AREA: ORAL AND WRITEN COMMUNICATION

UNIT 1:

PEOPLE AND PLACE

Key Unit Competence: To use language learnt in the context of people and places

1.1. Prerequisite (knowledge, skills, attitudes and values)

Before undertaking this unit people and places, student teachers should have prior information on people and places. They could also remember related topics on people and places learnt in social studies, History and English.

Student teachers may have information on different places heard and different people both within and out of Rwanda and more importantly learnt how to behave with familiar people and strangers in any place. They might equally have learnt from primary and ordinary level some interesting places different people likely to visit and even some of them might have visited them or live near those places. Student teachers also have information on different people from families, communities and country wide. Tutors should take that as a great opportunity and help him/her to start on that prior experience of the student teachers which will lead to the effective implementation of different activities intended in this unit.

Possible answers on the introductory activity

1. They present different people and different places.
2. Many people like to visit parks because there are some animals heard but also may wish to see them face to face. And also different people like to visit museums so as to see different things read from history books or things that they always watch on TV show but really curious to see them. Example: Cultural materials, Traditional practices, etc.
3. The following paragraph show what makes people
  - We are born different and we are raised up differently by different parents with different values, norms and principles and maybe even in different cultures. As we are growing up and being raised by our parents, we are being influenced not only by our parents' beliefs, values and norms but also by our environment, by the society and the culture we live in.

Examples:

Urban people behave differently from rural people and also Americans behave differently from Kenyans, Rwandans, people from Japan, etc,

4. Description of people at home using present simple tense:

Listen different views from student teachers and help them to draw a conclusion on description of people at home using present simple tense.

5. The difference between the nuclear family and the extended family is that a nuclear family refers to a single basic family unit of parents and their children, whereas the extended family refers to their relatives, as well – such as grandparents, in-laws, aunts and uncles, etc

E.g. -Peter and Suzan have two children

- My grandson and daughter in law will come to visit us next week.

6. For this question, you may listen to different ideas of student teachers and help them to harmonize different answers given by different student teachers. Example, your kids will not learn about life just by seating inside a classroom. They need to visit places they have never been. They need to use their 5 senses to effectively learn new things. Once they are outside, they will experience the world for themselves.

1.2 Cross-cutting issues to be addressed:

▪ Gender education

Gender education will be addressed through give both boys and girls equal chance of participation in the activities and the content to be taught. Example of activities; dialogues, group work, pair work, plenary discussions and characters used in case studies, plays and examples used in teaching and learning by both the tutor and student teachers.

▪ Peace and value education

In this unit, peace and value education will be addressed in different situations which will require both tutor and student teachers to actively listen to student teachers' concern and student teachers listen actively to their classmates in different situations, respecting every one's idea and using the positive language which can not harm anyone.

▪ Inclusive education

In this unit talking about people and places, this cross-cutting issue will be addressed while talking about different people of different abilities. Also talking about places, the tutor should help student teachers that not every person can easily reach at a place which is not inclusive (visiting a place that only have stairs will be difficult to physical disabled person, etc.)

- Environment and sustainability

It will be addressed when the tutor will be guiding student teachers in activities related to places and how people should be sensitized to throwing leaving bottles, papers, bottle tops after using them during vacations or trip. Example, it is prohibited to throw a bottle or any other waste through the window of the car because it can damage the environment hence loss of different illnesses. If a person visits a place, s/he should leave it safe and not lay down unused material.

1.3 Guidance on introductory activity

Ask student teachers to observe the picture (on page.....) and ask them to work in pairs when answering questions on unit 1 introductory activity. Give them time to critically think about the questions and move around to help some of the student teachers with special needs. Randomly select a representative from each pair to present findings to the rest of the class and harmonize the activity together.

1.1 Introducing oneself and others

Lesson 1:

a) Learning objectives

Knowledge and understanding

Recognize words used for self-introduction

Skills

- Listen to text describing self and others' introduction
- Read/write texts about people's introduction
- Introducing her/ himself and others

Attitudes and values

- Appreciate the language used with people's introduction

- Show interest in other people's introduction

b) Teaching resources

In this lesson, you may use pictures, Flash cards, markers, video, computer and a projector. The tutors may use internet to get different places that student teachers do not know, download a movie that can show different people that you cannot find in your place.

c) Prerequisites/ Revision/ Introduction

Ask one student teacher to introduce him/herself and guide him/her to also introduce others. The tutor can also use a video where possible and show people who are introducing themselves and others. Thereafter, ask them some questions to the part of video clip watched.

1.1.1. Learning activities

The tutor may use mingle game to make small groups of student teachers. Give clear instructions and help those with special needs to understand the instructions given.

Ask them to open their books, observe the pictures and answer questions that follow. Move around to help as many as possible. Invite some student teachers from different groups to share findings with the rest and thereafter ask them to link the pictures observed with the dialogue.

Possible answer: (Question for (1.1.1. Learning activity))

1. Open ended. the tutor listen to different student teachers 'ideas and guide them to harmonize given answers.

Example: In fig 1: there is a person who is introducing the person whom they work together to her friend.

Whereas in Fig. 2, there is a person who is presenting a new nursery teacher to his colleagues.

2. A new workplace, new tasks, and new colleagues: The first day on the new job brings a lot of changes with it. This makes it all the more important during this phase of on boarding for head teacher to make sure that new colleagues are integrated into the team and to convey to them a sense of belonging. The reason is that a warm reception sets the stage for the rest of the on boarding process. It signals to newcomers that, in your school, people treat each other with respect, show interest in one another, and are valued. This helps to increase employee motivation right from the beginning.

3. Open ended. the tutor listen to student teachers' views and guide them to the right answer.

Example: No, it is not necessary to talk about personal life or another person's life because life of person is private. So, it should not be share during introduction unless it's a person him/herself who shares it willingly.

4. Open ended. the tutor may guide student teachers accordingly

Example: It is very important to introduce your friends when meeting new people to him/her to help him/her participate in the conversation if you have one.

- Text 1. Audio script between two teachers of Nursery school

Ask student teachers to read silently the dialogue individually, ask some questions to check if they have read , invite two student teachers to model read the dialogue. Put student teachers in small groups and ask them to find the meaning of new words using their dictionaries. Lastly, ask student teachers questions for comprehension.

Possible answers on comprehension questions (page.....)

1. They are two people speaking, Yes Lucille has a brother
2. He is younger than her because he is five years younger.
3. Laura
4. They look alike
  - They love the same kinds of food
  - They like the same kinds of movies
5. Yes, the friends discussed a lot about Lucille's marriage up to her offspring.

1.1.3 Application activity

Possible answers: Application activities 1.1.3

Situation 1
Formal	Informal
Allow me to introduce myself Pleased to meet you My name's Lisa Rodgers.' 'Pleased to meet you too 'What do you do?' And yourself

Situation 2

Nice to meet you	Hi
My name's Paul.' (Handshake)	Hello
nice to meet you too	I don't think we've been introduced.
Do you work in the sales department?	How is everything?'

6. Essay writing

This is open to every student teacher, so you should read their ideas and provide constructive feedback using the following criterion:

- Coherence
- Content
- Punctuations
- Language used

1.2. Describing people and places

Lesson 2

a) Lesson objectives

Knowledge:

- Explain words used to talk about people and places.

Skills:

- Read or listen to stories about different places.
- Use descriptive language to describe different places.

Attitudes and values

- Appreciate community services offered at different places.

b) Teaching and learning resources

- Photographs, textbooks, audio materials, maps, Dictionaries etc.

c) Prerequisite/introduction/revision

Ask student teachers some questions related to the lesson learnt in the previous sub-title and guide them to link it with the new one.

1.2.1. Learning activity

Ask student teachers to read the text silently, ask some questions to check if they have read. Invite some students to model read or the tutor may fluently read for them. Invite different learners to read a loud for the whole class and put them in groups to identify words and find their meaning using their dictionaries and internet. Thereafter ask comprehension questions. (1.2.1. Learning activity).

Possible answers to the comprehension questions (1.2.1. Learning activity)

1. Lucy is the name described in the passage
2. She is low on growth, brown-eyed and black browed. She has on her pale face barely visible freckles. Big brown eyes are framed with long fluffy eyelashes. She always grins with her amazing smile. When she laughs, her little nose wrinkles so funnily. She is very tidy and smart.
3. She is a sincere friend, there are never secrets between us. When Lucie is sick, her friend comes to her and talks about school and her adventures.
-The author loves her friend for her sensitivity, kindness and spiritual purity.
4. The author loves this place because it is where she grew up and is a part of her childhood.
  - Appalachia is a part of the country the author loved.
  - The Appalachia Mountains are beautiful to her.
  - The author admired the trees, flowers, rocks on that hill.
5. At that place, People live in apartment or condominium buildings because of its little space available. I grew up in one of the many buildings in Pikeville admiring from my bedroom window the beauty of the mountains, always exploring with my eyes the forest or the meadows, looking for a clean and quiet place. ### Additional activities

Extended activities.

The extended activity is to challenge student teachers further with what has already been discussed in the unit.

- Talking about different places, shall be used. This activity is not compulsory but is likely to have students understand the concept further in a much more complex yet interesting way.

Activity: using internet, choose a place that you may wish to visit, write 250-word and describe it and put pictures of that place. The tutor may allow student teachers to work on this activity in groups and facilitate them to present it on the project in smart classroom. Remind them to effectively use some conjunctions learnt like where, when, whereas, etc. Help student teachers to harmonize the work.

Additional notes:

We use the conjunction whereas to indicate a contrast between two facts or ideas:

He loves foreign holidays, whereas his wife prefers to stay at home.

Whereas most new PCs have several USB slots, older ones often only had one.*

Warning: Whereas means the same as while in sentences expressing contrasts. It does not mean the same as while when while refers to time:

The south has a hot, dry climate, whereas/while the north has a milder, wetter climate.

The secretary took care of my appointments while I was away from the office.

Not: ... ~~whereas I was away from the office.~~

UNIT 2:

CAREER AND CHOICES

Key Unit Competence: To use language in the context of Career and Choices

2.1 Prerequisite (knowledge, skills, attitudes and values)

Before undertaking this unit about career and choices, student teachers should have prior information on different careers. They could also remember related topics on career and choices learnt in entrepreneurship and English.

Student teachers may have information on different careers and what it may require to a right choice and most importantly learnt how to choose a career. They might equally have learnt in ordinary level different strategies and requirements for a person to choose and successfully fit into that career. Student teachers also have information on different people who chose careers and today they are successful or not even successful due to different reasons. In different articles and texts read in o' level English also, they learnt that to choose a career, you need also to relate it with what you are able to and not because someone else is doing it and indeed is successful but rather follow your goal and what you are capable of doing. Therefore, the tutor should start on these prior knowledge and skills to translate intended activities into classroom realities.

2.2 Cross-cutting issues to be addressed:

- Gender education

Gender education will be addressed through give both boys and girls equal chance of participation in the activities and the content to be taught. Example of activities; dialogues, group work, pair work, plenary discussions and characters used in case studies, plays and examples used in teaching and learning by both the tutor and student teachers.

- Peace and value education

In this unit, peace and value education will be addressed in different situations which will require both tutor and student teachers to actively listen to student teachers' concern and student teachers listen actively to their classmates in different situations, respecting every one's idea and using a language that can not harm anyone.

- Inclusive education

In this unit talking about career and choices, this cross-cutting issue will be addressed while talking about how people's right in terms of employability regardless the disability that a person has. It will also be addressed through supports that both tutor and student teachers may provide to people with special needs. E. g: adapting the classroom instructions to every person, remedial activities by the teacher, providing explanation in extra time by classmates, etc.

- Environment and sustainability

It will be addressed when the tutor will be guiding student teachers in discussions related to what people call development and job creation but which can destroy our environment. Example, putting in place different industries and don't think about the safety environment. The tutor should help the student teachers to understand that job creation does not mean polluting environment but rather encourage them to create jobs which may not harm other things.

2.3 Guidance on introductory activity

Ask student teachers to study carefully the pictures (on page.....) and through working in small groups, guide them to answer questions (unit 1 introductory activity). The tutor may move around to help some of the student teachers with special needs. Randomly select a representative from each pair to present findings to the rest of the class and before harmonizing the findings, ask them to relate their findings with how lessons will look like.

Possible answers on the introductory activity

1. In Fig one, there is a troop of female soldiers, in fig. 2, there is a person who is very surprised about the work of career advisor, in fig. three there is a nurse while in fig,4 there is a farmer
2. To bring together different results of the different work done for development
  - To come up with a better summary of the work
3. I would look for a career guidance advisor to advise me on the career chosen
4. Yes, they are necessary for the efficiency of the work done

Allow possible answers from student teachers.

5. To choose a career, one should have basic certificate
  - Young people should also be advised by a career advisor for the proper career to be chosen.

- Use descriptive language to talk about ways of finding a job.

Attitudes and values

- Show willingness and hard work to achieve a future career of one's choice.
- Show Satisfaction with personal remuneration.

b) Teaching and learning resources

Photographs, textbooks, audio materials, maps, Dictionaries.

c) Introduction/prerequisite of the lesson

The tutor should have a review of the previous lesson such that the connection is not cut. It is significant that the lesson revolves around how to find jobs. Remember, student teachers will be out of college sooner than we may think. This lesson will be a guide to simplifying job search. Endeavor to make it interactive.

2.4.1. Learning activities

The tutor may guide the student teachers on the question related to pre-reading. Ask each and every student teacher to think and write something on the question, then ask two persons to pair to come up with one agreed answer and thereafter, join different pairs to share together their findings. Move around when student teachers are discussing and help those with special needs.

After sharing, ask student teachers to observe the pictures and answer questions related using the same groups. The tutor should then randomly select both boys and girls as representatives of their groups to share the findings and harmonize those activities.

The tutor can refer to the previous unit / sub-units as far as text analysis is concerned.

Possible answers (2.4.1. Pre-reading questions)

This an open ended question, tutor may listen to and read through ideas presented by student teachers and harmonize answers given to match them with the context.

Give opportunity to student teachers to speak out their ideas and read through those which are written. Check the language used, spelling words and guide them accordingly.

Application to the language structure 2.5.1.

Student teachers can be given different activities to apply the language structure taught. The tutor should give a relevant activity and provide constructive feedback.

Unit summary

In this Unit, you have learnt about careers and making informed career choices. The choice of career one makes is very important because it determines what you will do for the rest of your life. If you make a bad choice, you will regret it, but when you make a good choice, it is the beginning of a happy life. As TTC/Year one student teachers, your career is teaching but still being a teacher cannot limit you to follow something else in future. Therefore, knowledge of career choice will help you to make an informed and wise decision and contribute to choices that your students will make in future. In addition, the unit lessons have helped you to acquire reading, writing, listening and speaking skills about career choices through the activities given.

2.6. End unit assessment

Possible answers

1. Open ended. the tutor should refer to unit 5(student book) to help students in writing activities. When providing feedback check how language structure was used, coherence of paragraphs, context, punctuations, etc.
1. Choose the correct answer.
  1. We love this writer's books. We (have been reading / had been reading) them for years.
  2. Her clothes were dirty because she (has been working / had been working) in the garage.
  3. Where have you been? We (had been waiting / have been waiting) for you for ages.
  4. He hasn't decided on a career yet, but he (has been thinking / had been thinking) about it lately.
  5. After she (has been playing / had been playing) the violin for ten years, she joined an orchestra.
2. Complete the sentences with the correct form of the verbs in brackets. Use the Present Perfect Continuous or the Past Perfect Continuous.
  1. How long had your father been working for the company when he retired?
  2. Mike has never had an accident and he has been driving for years.

3. She had no idea it was so late because she had not been watching the time.
  4. "Have you been taking your medicine regularly, Mrs Smith?" "Yes, doctor."
  5. They eventually found the dog after they had been looking for it all night.
3. Complete the sentences with a suitable word or expression from the following: for, by tomorrow, so far, the week before, since
1. Our TV hasn't been working since last week.
  2. The Browns invited us to dinner although we had only met the week before.
  3. They will have finished painting the house by tomorrow.
  4. We had been writing for nearly an hour when the bell rang.
  5. They have interviewed three suspects so far.
4. Put each of the following words in its correct place in the text below

Successful, engineer, lives, teens, profession, choose, interests, decisions, character, job, answer, career

It is very important for everybody to make the right choice of career. And it is no wonder because there are a lot of honourable professions to choose from, for example, the profession of a teacher, a doctor, a computer-operator, an engineer, a journalist, an agronomist, a miner, a fitter, etc. It is difficult for the young people of seventeen to give a definite answer. There are lots of people who take decisions about their professions and their career very easily.

It is a matter of fact that only few of them become successful in their careers and their lives. Such people don't gain much success in their professions and their careers. The next point is that there is a big difference between job and career. Job is just a place to work in and to earn your living while career involves planning out the journey, picking up the necessary skills along the way to be successful, and purposely deciding what your interests, skills and work values are. Choosing a career is a hot question for school-leavers.

I know that leaving school is the beginning of my independent life, the beginning of a far more serious examination of my abilities and character. My parents and school teachers helped me to choose my future profession. I would like to become a teacher as my parents are. This profession is to my liking though I understand that it is a difficult job, but I like people and my long-term dream is to bring up and teach children. Some people never pick a career. They continue drifting from job to job, without considering where the drifting will lead. Teens may change their career interests or goals over time, but a well-chosen career usually leads to more advanced and challenging opportunities. And let's face it – you're likely to be working most of your life, so why not enjoy what you're doing. Finally, I'd like to advise you to choose your career carefully and then you will be happy and Successful in your future life.

Key unit competences: To use language learnt in the context of Social cohesion.

3.1. Prerequisites:

4.2 Cross- cutting issues

Financial Education

This cross-cutting issue will be addressed through different activities of this unit because they are all about personal finance and development. It can also be addressed through situations which can be arisen from classroom activities while teaching and learning is taking place.

Gender education

It will be addressed through content, techniques and tutor and student teachers' ways of addressing both boys and girls in classroom. Examples, you may find a text which only talk about men's abilities to run business and minimize the role of women, tutor can use pair works, group works and make sure that boys and girls are given equal chance.

Inclusive education

Through helping all student teachers based on abilities of everyone, questions that student may ask such as how people with visual impairment can use ATM cards, how do they know the amount of money especially with modern theft.

Peace and value education

Through different activities in groups, dialogues, pair works, etc, there is a need of having an environment where student teachers respect each other's point of view, active listening among student teachers and the tutor, conflict resolution and problem-solving when such situations happen.

4.3 Guidance to introductory activity.

The tutor may tell students to open their students' textbooks. Lead students slowly through the following six steps, pausing between each step to give them significant time for thinking and writing.

Ask students to look deeply at the picture for a good long time. Have them observe shapes, colours, textures, the position of people and/or objects, etc. Have students write down what they see without making any interpretation about what the picture is trying to say. The tutor may find out from students if they have any questions about the picture. These questions should be answered before the interpretation starts. The tutor may ask as many questions as possible and may correct students. Have students discuss the questions after the picture in pairs and present after.

Possible answers to introductory activity

1. Buying and selling activities in shops/super markets. There is on fig. 1 a person who is using writing on receipt and customers around. Then, in the second fig.2, there is a person who is choosing goods to buy.
2. The seller is preparing a receipt for a client because receipts allow for accurate tracking of sales and revenue. Also, when a business faces an Internal Revenue Service audit on its tax returns, receipts serve as valuable documentation of sales transactions. A receipt also notes any discounts on sales or allowances, which are used for accounting and financial reporting.
3. This is an open ended question, the tutor may give opportunity to student teachers to share their views and then, help them to harmonize their ideas. Example, Yes, because personal finance covers managing your money, saving and investing. It encompasses budgeting, banking, insurance, mortgages, investments, retirement planning, and tax and estate planning. So, the pictures observed have presented some of the activities related to personal finance.

- For this learning activity 2, the tutor should ensure that all the words in the vocabulary table have been used and the sentences are grammatically correct.

5.1.2. Application activities:

- Paragraph writing.

For guidance in this application activity 5.1.2, the tutor may refer to notes on paragraph formation on Unit 5, LE level 1 students' textbook.

Consider the following as key in paragraph development;

- topic sentence/main idea/main point in a paragraph.
- explanatory sentences that give details or explanations.
- have grammatically correct sentences in every paragraph.
- sentences must flow coherently and must be complete.
- punctuation and spellings should be correct for the tutor to consider that paragraph well written.

2. Debate motion:

“Schools should conduct mandatory HIV testing on their students”.

The tutor may seek guidance from unit 5 of LE students’ book level 1 to have a successful debate. After the debate, assess the best speaker and have the summary of all the points from the proposers and opposers written on a manila paper and pinned at the corner of the class.

5.2 Talking about sanitation and related tools

Lesson 2

a) Lesson objectives

Knowledge:

- Name tools used in sanitation.

Skills:

- Read texts about health and personal hygiene for information about related tools.

Attitudes and values

- Maintenance of hygienic tools.

b) Teaching and learning resources

Charts displaying people suffering from different diseases, books, internet, hygienic tools.

c) Prerequisites of the lesson

Student teachers should be helped to review previous knowledge and link it with the new lesson.

5.2.1. Learning activity

The tutor may pair up students and here, he may write the title of the passage and give students few minutes to generate 4 questions about the passage. This activity is called, ‘generate questions.’ Move around to monitor the activity. After that, tell students to open their LE students’ texts and read the text 1 on learning activity 5.2.1. The students may then determine if their generated questions match with the content in the passage.

Tell them to move on and answer the comprehension questions

Possible answers to comprehension questions 5.2.1

1. If hands are not washed, one may take in germs that cause diarrhea and subsequently losing appetite, hence limiting their nutritional intake.
2. Dirty water causes severe illness and even death caused by water borne diseases.
  - The consequences children face is missing school because they move long distances in search of clean water.

5.3.2 Spelling and pronunciation

The activity below necessitates student teachers to use dictionaries and thesaurus to look up for the missing phonologic transcription of the words in the table below. Student teachers may copy the table in their books and will fill in the blank spaces. The tutor may practise the correct pronunciation/reading with the students during class.

Vocabulary	Pronunciation(phonologic transcription)
disease	/dɪ'zi:z/
waterborne	/'wɔ:təbɔ:n/
airborne	/( 'ɛə ,bɔ:n) /
bacteria	/bæk'tɪə.ri. ə/
virus	/'vʌɪrəs/
malaria	/mə'le:riə/
cancer	/'kænsə/
infected	/ɪn'fektɪd/
symptoms	/'sɪmptəms/
fever	/'fi:və/
headache	/'hedeɪk/
unprotected	/,ʌn.prə'tek.tɪd/
needle	/'ni:dl/
condom	/'kɒndəm/
stagnant	/'stægnənt/

5.4. End unit assessment

The tutor may ask students to copy down the end of unit assessment from the students' text to their books and try it out.

Students should complete the Conditional Sentences using the correct form of verbs in brackets.

i.

1. If we meet at 9:30, we...will have...plenty of time. (have)

ii. Choose the right word to fill in blanks in the following paragraph Hepatitis B and C and HIV/AIDS are transmitted through body...fluids...(muscles/fluids). Infections and diseases, such as hepatitis are most often carried through the semen and blood of...infected...(infected/healthy)persons. Malaria is transmitted through the...bite...(excrement/bite) of a female anopheles...mosquito...(fly/mosquito). It injects infected ...blood...(blood/semen) into your body when it bites you.

For this end of unit assessment iii, student teachers will write a 200-word composition on a person suffering from a communicable disease. They will use conditional sentences to explain what they would have done to avoid that communicable disease.

In this activity, the tutor may consider referring to Unit 5 LE students' text for further guidelines in developing paragraphs in composition writing.

Consider the following when assessing this activity:

- For the introduction, it could be an opening hook, (a quotation or a fact about communicable diseases. The student teacher may provide a definition of the disease.
- In the body of the composition, ensure the students have well developed topic sentences or main points in each paragraph. Here, student may include the signs and symptoms of communicable diseases and also discuss how to avoid/prevent them. Remind students to use conditional sentences for the how to prevent part.

- The conclusion part may involve a call to action on how to prevent the spread of communicable diseases since prevention is better than cure.

Note: -Ensure that there is a logical flow in the student's composition.

Highlight all grammatical and spelling errors and follow up the correction.

Key Unit Competence: To use the language learnt in the context of Cultural heritage

6.1 Prerequisite (knowledge, skills, attitudes and values)

Before undertaking this unit people and places, student teachers should have prior information on Cultural heritage. They could also remember related topics on Cultural heritage learnt in social studies, History and English.

Student teachers may have information on different things related to culture within and out of Rwanda as they learnt them in social studies and history. Student teachers may also have chance to visit some sites, museums and got information about cultural practices like they Rwandans could celebrate Umuganura(harvest celebration), a school that was for the whole nation called Itorero, beliefs, customs, values, etc. During extra-curricular activities in different schools, they practice different activities related to culture like Itorero as government policy which could have helped the student teachers as well to get informed about culture and heritage. Tutors should take that as a great opportunity and help him/her to start on that prior experience of the student teachers which will lead to the effective implementation of different activities intended in this unit.

6.2 Cross-cutting issues to be addressed:

- Genocide study

Genocide study will be addressed when talking about memorial sites and how Rwandan's unity was destroyed after the arrival of colonialists. It will also be addressed through discussing the culture characterized Rwandans such as weeding ceremonies where families could happily accept a boy or a girl regardless what is so-called the race.

- Peace and value education

In this unit, peace and value education will be addressed through discussing some values characterised Rwandans and how Itorero restored them after genocide against Tutsi in Rwanda.

Again, it will be addressed in different situations which will require both tutor and student teachers to actively listen to student teachers' concern and student teachers listen actively to their classmates in different situations, respecting every one's idea and using the positive language which can not harm anyone.

▪ Gender education

Gender education will be addressed through talking about how the culture isolated woman participation different activities. Student teachers will also be helped to understand the advantages and disadvantages of women's participation regardless what we used to call a culture. When both boys and girls get treated equally during all activities and the content to be taught, therefore gender education also is addressed. Then ,within the supports that student teachers with special needs will be given by both the tutor and classmates, inclusive education may be addressed from there.

▪ Environment and sustainability

This will be addressed while talking about how different sites, museums should be protected.

6.3 Guidance on introductory activity

Ask student teachers to observe the picture (on page.....) and ask them to work in pairs when answering questions on unit 1 introductory activity. Give them time to critically think about the questions and move around to help some of the student teachers with special needs. Randomly select a representative from each pair to present findings to the rest of the class and harmonize the activity together.

Possible answers the introductory activity

Form groups that mix different student teachers of varied levels of understanding, ask them to observe the pictures and answer questions as instructed.

Move around and guide where possible. Make a random selection from each group and pick a student teacher who can present the findings on behalf of their group mates.

1. Pictures presented in the introductory activity in unit 1.
  - Represent different types of food eaten especially in traditional time though even now today some people can eat them.
  - Art and craft
  - Dressing
  - Cattle keeping

- Huts that people lived that can be seen actually in museum
2. Cultural preservation is important because, it keeps culture in existence.(it is not lost or eroded)
    - Allow some other possible answers from student teachers because the question is open and student teachers can see in different perspectives.
  3. In the past, Rwandans build small grass thatched huts, while today Rwandans use iron sheets and build big fashionable houses using bricks, stones, yet in the past they used reeds, trees, grass, fibres, etc.
  4. Allow some other possible answers from student teachers because the question is open and student teachers can see in different perspectives.
  5. Listen to student teachers possible answers because the question is open and student teachers can see it from different perspectives.
  6. Guide student teachers to identify cultural practices and Listen to their possible answers because the question is open and student teachers can have various ideas.
  7. Cultural heritage can be preserved by emphasizing our cultural practices. If cultural practices are not practiced, then the culture can be forgotten.
  8. We can also preserve our culture through gathering all necessary information and materials and keep them using technologies and create youth and old people forums where they meet and discuss about the cultural practices. E. g: write books on culture and store them electronically.

6.1 Talking about the role of a language in a culture

Lesson 1:

a) Learning objectives

Knowledge understanding

- Identify words and expressions to explain the contribution of a language in the context of cultural heritage

Skills

Talk about the role of a language in a culture

Write texts talking about the role of a culture

Attitudes and values

Appreciate the role of a language in a culture

b) Teaching resources

In this lesson, you may use pictures, Flash cards, markers, video, computer and a projector. The tutors may use internet to get pictures and information that student teachers do not know, download a movie that can show cultural practices that you cannot find in your place.

c) Prerequisites/ Revision/ Introduction

Engage student teachers in short dialogue related to the relationship between the language and culture, ask each person to think about it and after ask two student teachers to pair and later ask some pairs to with the rest of the class. Guide them to link the dialogue with the text which is going to be exploited.

6.1.1. Learning activities: Reading and texts analysis

The tutor can ask student teachers to open their books (on page...) and tell each student teacher to read the text silently and guide them with some questions to see if they have really read. Invite some volunteers to read aloud as model reading. Ask student teachers as they seat to find some blocking words and explain them using dictionaries. Ask student teachers to discuss also on comprehension questions. The tutor should welcome different views when it comes to the questions which require thinking critically.

Possible answer: Question for (6.1.1. Learning activity: Reading and exploitation of texts)

1. Language is much more than the external expression and communication of internal thoughts formulated independently of their verbalization
2. Consider language as a part of culture. Culture is here being used, as it is throughout this article, in the anthropological sense, to refer to all aspects of human life insofar as they are determined or conditioned by membership in a society.
3. Edward Burnett Tylor. As thus defined and envisaged, culture covers a very wide area of human life and behavior, and language is manifestly a part, probably the most important part, of it.
4. Language is “acquired by man as a member of society,” along with and at the same time as other aspects of that society’s culture in which people are brought up
5. Verbal and non verbal communication also affects the way in which culture is shaped. It can express the differences in culture quite clearly, as different groups interpret non verbal communication differently. This is a fact expressed in many different ways by media outlets, and is celebrated rather than ridiculed. Verbal and non verbal communication can help define the way in which intercultural communication can interact, and is of significance as it allows for individuals to learn the difference existing in various cultures as per their gestures and body language.

6. Every language can represent the role of culture through its own reflection of reality it presents. The versions differ as every nation has had to face a different set of problems to arise at their current state. There are different set of values and beliefs attached to each, and they are all equally important, and as far as language is concerned, is supposed to be just as important as it is a reflection of the nations identity.

Possible answers (6.1.2. application activity)

For open ended questions, the tutor may critical read the student teachers' possible ideas and guide them in relation to the context. Remind student teachers to find the guidelines for writing paragraphs in unit five. When providing feedback, use some criterion such as the coherence of sentences in the paragraphs, context, language used, punctuations, etc.

6.2. Talking about the importance of cultural preservation and national cultural heritage

a) Lesson objectives

Knowledge and understanding:

Explaining the importance of cultural heritage

Skills:

- writing paragraphs and compositions on how to preserve cultural and national heritages.

Attitudes and values:

- Interest in visiting different cultural sites.
- Preserve the cultural heritage of Rwanda.

b) Teaching resources; Articles, documentaries about national cultural heritages of Rwanda, Newspaper articles, photos of cultural heritage sites, etc.

c) Introduction/prerequisite

In the previous sub-unit student teachers have already been introduced to cultural heritage. They should build on the knowledge they got and learn about the importance of cultural preservation and national cultural heritage.

6.2.1. Learning activity)

Actively engage student teachers in a short brainstorming activity where the focus will on the importance of cultural preservation and national heritage. Then after, ask student teachers to read silently and ask some questions to check whether they have read. Invite some student teachers to model read and group them as they seat to identify new words and find their meaning in dictionaries. Ask them to work in their respective groups on comprehension questions and lastly help student teachers to harmonize the findings.

Possible answers (comprehension questions)

1. -Language
  - Constructions
  - Dressing
  - Farming and cultural crops (cash crops, food crops e.g. Tea, sorghum)
  - Cultural dance(Intore, Amaraba)
2. People can feel lost and alone among so many other cultures and backgrounds. New York City, for example, is a huge melting pot of people from all over the world.
3. Some may think traditions are archaic and no longer relevant, and that they are unnecessary during these modern times. Perhaps for some, they are not; but for others, exploring cultural heritage offers a robust variety of benefits.
4. Through cultural heritage we can know easily the people of other community by identifying the culture and similar mindsets which makes it different from others, hence uniqueness comes in.
5. This is an open ended question, therefore, allow student teachers to respond in different perspective because the question itself has given the room for different views.

Example: Culture Heritage is important in our day to day life. It is being made up of practices and traditions that are passed on from our parents to children or passed from the family, community and place where people have been raised. As a small country, preserving unique culture and tradition provides strong equipment for independence. In teaching and learning, cultural preservation and national heritage will be used as teaching and learning tool for generation to generation.

▪ Possible answers to the poem: Text 2

1. Our forefathers had a vision that one day; their descendants will bear the title of their own to represent their ancient glory and value it at heart.
2. People lived communally, joint with the same totem and the same spirit the same beliefs
3. To embrace our future
4. Totems and beliefs
5. -We should also have a vision
  - We should be united by norms of the heart.
  - We should be courageous and undefeatable

Possible answers (6.2.2. application activity)

On 30 September 1955, Dean left Los Angeles in his Porsche sports car. He stopped at Salinas and then continued towards Palm Springs. He was driving west on US Highway 466 when another car crashed into him at a junction. He wasn't wearing a seat belt and when the crash happened, he died immediately.

3. Traditionally in Rwanda, Itorero was an education centre where Rwandans were mentored on civic education and good relationships with other people. Itorero had no discrimination or segregation; and this was the means by which Rwandans expanded and developed their country. Colonization gradually suppressed Itorero. The Itorero that remained, as well as those created later, differed from the traditional Itorero as they changed their mission and only focused on dancing.

This situation impacted on relationships among Rwandans and the way the country was governed; discrimination and genocide ideology spread.

4. Guide student teachers to write a composition on the role of a teacher in cultural preservation and national heritage. When providing a feedback, pay attention to the language structure, context, coherence, punctuations.

Key Unit competence: To use language learnt in the context of Environment Conservation and Sustainability

7.1. Prerequisite

Before taking on this unit Environment conservation and sustainability, the tutor should ensure that the student teachers have a clue on Environment. This is a topic that cuts across most levels of school. It is important that the tutor triggers their memory to recall environment related topics that they have come across. It is paramount that they not only have theoretical skills to conserving and sustaining the environment, but that they also have a practical approach to it.

7.2. Cross-cutting issues to be addressed:

- Environment and sustainability (Describing different ways of protecting environment, protecting natural vegetation and other elements of physical environment)
- Peace and value education (discourage negative behaviour such as booing or laughing at others if they give incorrect answers, encourage them to work in peace and harmony and be committed to avoiding conflict)
- Gender education (ensure that girls and boys are mixed in order to promote cross-gender interaction, encourage both genders to take on role of leadership, )
- Inclusive education (put learners into different mixed-ability groups and if you have learners with disabilities let them be mixed with others, If you have children with hearing disabilities or communication difficulties you should always get their attention before you begin to speak and encourage the child to look at your face when you speak, provide learners with visual impairment with braille texts)

7.3. Guidance to introductory activities

The tutor should ask student teachers to open their students' books and critically observe the pictures. This activity should be of open discussion. However, encourage them to check for the questions after interpretation the pictures. Allow a free discussion with your guidance while they find answers to questions on the introductory activity of Unit 7.

Possible answers to questions from the introductory activity

1. Fig1 represent dwellings around a lake. Both lakes and dwellings are physical elements of the environment.

The image in Fig2 is a volcano. A volcano is also one of physical elements of the environment.

The images in Fig2 are mountain gorillas. Mountain gorillas are endangered physical elements of the environment; they therefore need to be protected.

2. The main elements of our physical environment include: water, mountains, climate, mineral resources, vegetation and Soil.
3. It is very important to protect our environment because our survival depends on it. For example, our forests remove carbon dioxide and other pollutants from the air we breathe and also cool our air temperatures, reducing the formation of ground-level ozone, a pollutant that can cause heart and lung problems to worsen; our wetlands store storm water, filter and make harmless storm water pollutants, and recharge our aquifers (where most of us get our drinking water) with these filtered waters; and the dune systems on our beaches form natural barriers to storm waves and provide important habitat and travel ways for both humans and animals.
4. Methods that can be used to conserve our environmental resources include: planting trees, using reusable bags, recycling, composting, using rechargeable batteries, quitting smoking and maintaining our vehicles

Guidance of the lessons: The tutor may ask students the physical features that are close to them at home. This is to bring the lesson to the context of student. The tutor could even find out what students have done to keep those features safe from destruction. Tutor should encourage active involvement of students in the lesson.

7.1 Talking about physical elements of environment (Student's book, page.....)

Lesson 1:

a) Learning objectives

Knowledge and understanding:

- Identify words and expressions used in the context of environment.

Skills:

- Read passages about environment.
- Write passages about environment.

Attitudes and values:

- Respect land laws.
- Love of natural environment.

b) Teaching and learning resources

Student teacher books, projectors, laptops, pictures, newspaper articles, documentaries, dictionaries, thesauruses and maps.

c) Prerequisites

Before taking on this sub-unit, talking about physical elements of environment, the tutor should ensure that the student teachers have a clue on Environment.

7.1.1. Learning activity (Student's book, page.....)

Ask student teachers to read the text in pairs. Encourage them to go through it quickly in the first reading. Remind them to read in a slower pace for purposes of comprehension during the second reading. Take walk through to make sure reading is taking place. This will also help the tutor to identify students who may need extra help in the activity. Call on representatives of each pair to present to the class their answers.

Possible answers to the learning 7.1.1. - Text, comprehension question

1. According to the author, the physical environment is natural surroundings including whether it is clean or dirty and the things within it and how they interact to create a 'space.'

7.2 Describing environmental features and their roles

Lesson2

a) Learning objectives

Knowledge and understanding:

- Identify words and expressions used in the context of environment.

Skills:

- Read passages about environment features.
- Write passages about environment features.

Attitudes and values:

- Respect land laws.
- Love of natural environment.

b) Teaching and learning resources:

Student teacher books, projectors, laptops, pictures, newspaper articles, documentaries, dictionaries, thesauruses and maps.

c) Prerequisites

Before taking on this sub-unit, describing environmental features and their roles, the tutor should ensure that the student teachers have knowledge about physical elements of environment as learnt in the previous sub-unit.

7.2.1. Learning activity: (Reading and text analysis)

You should ask student teachers to open their students' textbooks and read the text titled 'The role of environmental features'. You should tell them to read silently in pairs and randomly distribute paragraphs to readers to read aloud to the class. You could also pay attention to the pronunciation, audibility and clear articulation of words and interrupt in case a student struggles with a specific word.

After the read aloud, instruct the student teachers to work in pairs while finding answers to the comprehension questions on learning activity 7.2.1, then share with the rest of the class. The discussion should be exhaustive. The reading and speaking skills must be strengthened.

Possible answers to comprehension questions on learning activity 7.2.1

1. There are two rainy seasons in the year. The first runs from February to June and the second from September to December. These are separated by two dry seasons: the major one from June to September, during which there is often no rain at all, and a shorter and less severe one from December to February.

2. No trees, no forests! No forests, no rainfall! No rainfall, no water! No water, no power! No power, no industry! No industry, no jobs! No jobs, no money! No money, no food! No food, no life!
3. Countries which are served by hydro power generation from River Nile are: Uganda, Kenya and Rwanda.

2. Composition writing

This is an open-ended activity. The tutor could guide the students on composition writing. Consider the following in your guidance:

Introduction- students should clearly introduce their topics to the readers. This is intended to draw the reader to the composition.

Body- This should contain the detailed and relevant information, with very clear points.

Conclusion- Here students should conclude by emphasizing the role of animals in the equilibrium of ecological habitats.

7.3: Describing different ways of protecting environment

Lesson 3

a) Lesson objectives

Knowledge and understanding:

- Indicate different ways of protecting environment.

Skills:

- Write and talk about environment conservation and protection
- Read passages about environment.
- Write passages about environment.

Attitudes and values:

- Spirit of environment care and protection.
- Respect land laws that protect environment.
- Love of natural environment.

b) Teaching and learning resources

Student teacher books, projectors, laptops, pictures, newspaper articles, documentaries, dictionaries, thesauruses and maps.

c) Prerequisites

Before taking on this unit Environment conservation and sustainability, the tutor should ensure that the student teachers have a clue on Environment.

7.3.1. Leaning activity: Reading and texts analysis

For this picture observation activity, tutor should tell students to open their students' textbooks and observe the two pictures carefully and later interpret them by answering the questions. This activity should be done individually because it is personal development..

This activity should not take a long time. They may not be able to answer correctly now but after the reading activity they will have got enough knowledge to appropriately do this activity.

For the reading activity, the tutor may carry out model reading for the class. The tutor should instruct the students to answer comprehension questions on learning activity 7.3.1 individually. Allow for peer evaluation after students are through with the questions. Tutor should guide the whole process.

Possible answers to comprehension questions on learning activity 7.3.1

1. Problems that the writer says they can be dealt with government are global warming, the loss of forests and other habitats and waste disposal.

Key unit competence: To use language learnt in the context of education and development

8.1. Prerequisite

Before this unit Education and personal development is undertaken, student teachers should be well versed with facts on Education and personal development because they have been through some levels of education. You may simply recall related experience or content that they studied way back in their lower levels. Everyone else has been involved in personal growth. This puts the tutor in a position of easily relating the unit to student teachers experience.

8.2. Cross-cutting issues to be addressed:

- Comprehensive sexuality education ( The fourth sub-unit; Sexual behaviour provide learners with the knowledge and skills that allow them to make informed decisions about their sexuality and life style)
- Peace and value education (discourage negative behaviour such as booing or laughing at others if they give incorrect answers, encourage them to work in peace and harmony and be committed to avoiding conflict)
- Gender education (ensure that girls and boys are mixed in order to promote cross-gender interaction, encourage both genders to take on role of leadership, )
- Inclusive education (put learners into different mixed-ability groups and if you have learners with disabilities let them be mixed with others, If you have children with hearing disabilities or communication difficulties you should always get their attention before you begin to speak and encourage the child to look at your face when you speak, provide learners with visual impairment with braille texts)

8.3. Guidance to introductory activity

Direct the student teachers to observe the images in the introductory activity. Remind them to address some of the questions using their own experience and the experience of others. Encourage them to work on this activity in pairs. Monitor their progress by walking through to ensure teamwork and to assist those that are encountering difficulties. Continue encouraging them to do their best.

Possible answers to questions from the introductory activity

1. The figures above represent educational ambitions.
2. Yes, it is very important for them to celebrate the graduation day for it makes them very ambitious and eager to achieve academically.
3. Education and personal development are much related since one can be a reason for another to occur. Educated people are likely to realize their dream for whatever they do, they do it strategically and systematically.
4. A disabled child like the one in Fig. 2 can benefit the same education as those without disabilities through inclusive education.

Guidance on the lessons: Tutor can set a friendly atmosphere that will ensure that all opinions about education, experiences to do with sex education are treated with respect throughout the lessons. Teaching resources should be readily available as the lesson will heavily rely on experiences and resources for its success.

8.1 Describing the ability at school (Student's book, page.....)

Lesson 1

a) Learning objectives

Knowledge and understanding:

Recognize words and phrases used to talk about one's ability.

Skills:

Talk about his/her ability in both writing and speaking.

Attitudes and values:

Appreciate the importance of education in our lives.

b) Teaching and learning resources

Photographs, job advertisements, student teacher books, projectors, laptops, pictures, newspaper articles, documentaries, dictionaries, thesauruses and maps.

c) Prerequisites

Before taking on this sub-unit describing the ability at school, the tutor should ensure that the student teachers have a clue on using present simple tense.

8.1.1. Learning activity: Picture interpretation and reading

You should tell learners to look at the pictures and answer questions after them. After answering questions about pictures, you should ask student teachers to read the dialogue in pairs. Encourage them to go through it quickly in the first reading. Remind them to read in a slower pace for purposes of comprehension during the second reading.

Take walk through to make sure reading is taking place. This will also help the tutor to identify students who may need extra help in the activity. Call on members of each pair to role-play the dialogue before the class

Possible answers to the learning 8.1.1. Picture interpretation

- What is taking place in Fig. 1-2 is teaching and learning.
- If parents are involved in education process they help their children revise their lessons.

- Teachers and parents complement one another. (Accept any reasonable explanation)

Possible answers to the learning 8.1.1. Comprehension question

1. The purpose of the conversation was to follow up the child’s education in order to know his ability at school.
2. The parent worried just because he cares.
3. Parents should collaborate with school leaders and teachers in order to know the progress of their children. If they know where the child has weakness they may help them to revise.
4. I would advise the parent to be following up the child and help him revise at home.

Application activity 8.1.2: Reading comprehension on a dialogue.

1. Read the following conversation and answer questions that follow

- Malhotra is Ravi’s father.
- Malhotra went to the college because his son was admitted there.
- Ravi was a student at the Army Public School, Delhi and had cleared class X with an aggregate of 89%.
- Ravi would like to take up the Science stream with Computer Science as an elective.
